Elenchos Behavioral Health Program (BHP)

Elenchos Health is a national care coordination company that puts a key focus on behavioral health as the foundation of outcomes-based care management. Through the simple act of providing a patient with a tablet loaded with the Elenchos BHP, a practice can generate thousands of dollars per year in their waiting room.

The Elenchos BHP is a cloud-based behavioral e-screening, desktop, and tablet-based application that is designed to be placed in a practice's waiting room. The platform generates standardized behavioral health assessments specifically chosen for each patient and flags the reports that are positive with advice and guidelines on next steps for providers.
