UNITY INSURANCE AND MEDCHI RECOGNIZE NATIONAL INSURANCE AWARENESS DAY

BALTIMORE – June 25, 2026 – National Insurance Awareness Day, observed each June 28, serves as an annual reminder that insurance is not simply a line item on a budget. For physicians and medical practice owners, it represents something more fundamental: the ability to keep working, protect the people who depend on them, and sustain everything they have built.

Unity Insurance, a MedChi company, has served the Maryland medical community for more than 50 years. What began as a specialized focus on medical malpractice coverage has grown into a full-service insurance agency offering physicians and their practices a comprehensive range of protections under one roof — from professional and business liability to employee benefits and beyond.

"National Insurance Awareness Day serves as an important reminder that having the right insurance coverage is a key part of protecting your health, financial well-being, and peace of mind," said Dr. Lee Snyder, Unity Insurance Board of Directors Chair. "Unexpected illnesses, injuries, and life events can happen at any time, and adequate insurance coverage helps ensure that individuals and families can access the care and support they need without facing unnecessary financial hardship. I encourage everyone to take time to review their policies, understand their benefits, and speak with trusted professionals about any gaps in coverage."

The relationship between Unity and MedChi is central to that mission. As Maryland's medical society, MedChi has long advocated for the interests of physicians across the state. Unity's place within that organization means its clients benefit from a level of insight and institutional knowledge that extends well beyond standard brokerage services.

"MedChi has always been committed to supporting Maryland physicians in every dimension of their professional lives," said Eric Wargotz, MD, FCAP, President, MedChi. "Insurance is a critical part of that. We're proud to work alongside Unity to make sure physicians have access to trusted guidance and the right coverage for where they are today."

The full scope of what Unity offers reflects the complexity of running a medical practice in today's environment. Physicians face risk across multiple dimensions simultaneously — clinical liability, business continuity, workforce stability, and personal financial security. Unity's model is built around serving all those needs through a single, knowledgeable partner.

As practices grow and the risk landscape shifts, Unity's consultative approach ensures that coverage evolves alongside the people it protects.

Unity Insurance recently expanded its offerings to include Payroll Protection Plus; a newer coverage designed specifically for solo practitioners and small practices with up to four physicians. Unlike traditional disability insurance, which replaces personal income, Payroll Protection Plus is designed to cover actual practice operating expenses — payroll, rent, equipment leases, and more — if a physician is temporarily unable to work. It fills a gap that many practice owners don't realize exists. To learn more, contact Unity Insurance directly.
