MEDCHI, THE MARYLAND STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY, ROLLS OUT NEW MOBILE APP

MedChi Now Offers a Free App for Mobile Apple Products

BALTIMORE, March 20, 2012 – MedChi, The Maryland State Medical Society announced today that they have created a free mobile app for Apple products. Gene M. Ransom, MedChi’s CEO, is very excited about this new technology stating that “This is a great app for patients because it allows them to see the qualifications/training of the doctor they are seeing so there is no confusion over who is a medical doctor.” This goes hand in hand with the Truth in Advertising Legislation that MedChi is currently supporting.

Whether you are a physician, patient or member, you can use this app to stay informed and connected with the organization. This app will provide quick access to contact information, physician directory, organization calendar, directions to the MedChi office and much more at your fingertips! Make sure you download your free app today.
