AUGUST IS NATIONAL IMMUNIZATION AWARENESS MONTH

BALTIMORE, August 11, 2016 — Everyone needs shots (also called vaccinations or immunizations) to help protect against serious diseases. To help keep our community safe, MedChi, The Maryland State Medical Society, is proudly participating in National Immunization Awareness Month.

Everyone age 6 months and older needs a seasonal flu shot every year. Other shots work best when they are given at certain ages. Talk to your physician to make sure that everyone in the family gets the shots they need.

- For children age 6 or younger, make sure you find out which shots your child needs from your pediatrician.
- Adults need a booster shot every 10 years to help protect against tetanus and diphtheria.
- Find out what shots adults and teenagers need, since this will differ from infants and younger children.
- If you are pregnant, make sure you speak to your physician about any immunizations you may need. This will help protect you and your unborn child.
- If you will be traveling find out which shots you will need to help keep you safe.

Dr. Brooke Buckley, President of MedChi, states “Shots can prevent serious diseases like the flu, measles, diphtheria, tuberculosis and rubella. It is also important to keep a copy of your vaccination records in a safe place in case you ever need them for reference.”
