HONOR YOUR PHYSICIAN, AND ALL PHYSICIANS, ON NATIONAL DOCTORS' DAY

BALTIMORE, March 30, 2022 – If you've ever entrusted your health or your life to a physician or surgeon, you understand the importance of this relationship and the trust involved. This year National Doctors' Day is Wednesday March 30th. Please help us honor the skill, commitment, and compassion of the many physicians who work tirelessly to maintain the health of you and your loved ones.

Two years into the COVID-19 pandemic, many physicians continue to put their health and safety on the line every day treating patients and keeping us all safe and well. Others have lent a hand to an overburdened colleague, shared supplies and equipment, and incorporated telemedicine into their practice.

Physicians go into medicine for a variety of reasons. And while these reasons vary, the underlying theme seems to be a profound desire to help others. While they may not do this for recognition or accolades, MedChi believes it is important that we recognize and thank them anyway. As MedChi CEO Gene Ransom put it: "We should express our appreciation to our doctors year-round; however, this national holiday serves as a reminder to all of us of their ongoing strength, courage, and commitment".

MedChi is a membership organization of over 9,000 physicians, residents, and medical students. As Maryland's foremost advocate and resource for physician, patients, and the public health, we are proud to say that for us, every day is "doctors' day." In addition to sharing our appreciation with them on this day, we also encourage and remind everyone to schedule regular visits to their doctor/s to ensure they are on the right track to better health.
